

Zine, Natalie

From: Martin McKenna [REDACTED]
Sent: Saturday, October 4, 2025 12:37 PM
To: Zine, Natalie
Subject: EX: Solar farm

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

Please consider refusing the solar farm so close to residential areas. As an electrician I have worked on a solar project and have heard that the rules and restrictions are very burdensome for the landowner. They are basically beholden to the solar company.

Martin McKenna
IBEW Local 134

Rules for a solar farm on your property depend heavily on your local municipality and require consulting their zoning office for specifics like permits, setbacks, height limits, environmental impact studies, and decommissioning plans. You'll also need to consider agreements within your lease, like lease

